

AGENDA

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON RADIOACTIVE PROBLEMS

CABINET ROOM

JANUARY 11, 1960

I	Opening Statement		The Chairman
	Response		Committee on Radiation
II	Nature of the Problem and Importance of Control
	(a) Russian Posture for Control and Civil Defense		Mr. Z. A. Szeles
	(b) Relation to Foreign Policy		Secretary of State
	(c) Relation to Military Policy		Secretary of Defense
III	Effects of Nuclear War and the Nature of Failure		Mr. John S. Galletta
IV	Feasibility of Failure Prevention (Materials, Design, Standards) and Relation of Failure Prevention to Radiological Defense, Attenuation, and Recovery		Mr. Robert H. Smith
V	Need for State and Federal Action in Stimulating Individual Action		Mr. Charles E. Kettering

VI

Federal Agency for Research of Inventions and Discoveries

(a) Medical Supply Center
Personnel

Secretary Menning

(b) Food Supply

Secretary Morse

(c) Home & Health Products

Secretary Mason

(d) Educational Materials

Secretary Long

VII

Member of the State Department
Federal Reserve

Secretary Rockefeller

VIII

Executive Director of the Agency

Special Committee on Civil Defense

Special Committee on Civil Defense of the Government Conference
Nelson A. Rockefeller, New York, Chairman

Edmund G. Brown, California
George D. Clyde, Utah

James H. Doolittle, North Carolina
W. Averell Harriman, Illinois

Secretary

J. Caleb Boggs, Delaware, Chairman of the Government Conference
Brevard Cribfield, Secretary of the Government Conference