General Eisenhower has received a book entitled "The Absolute Weapon - Atomic Power and World Order", published by the Yale Institute of International Studies. He desires to make the book available to any senior official of the War Department who may wish to see it. However, since it is part of his permanent file, it is requested that it be returned to this office after it has served its purpose. The book may be secured by calling this office, Branch 2110, War Department.
