WEYZEN:

Walt, the letter is fine both content and workmanship but I don't think the paragraph at 7b is all that responsive.

Hell, their problem is the arrowroot doesn't grow as big. I don't suggest changing the letter, but OES and our people - Rabson and Osburn or someone else with plant physiology background should do a little reading on arrowroot and see what its particular needs are. Knowing this a hard look the next visit would perhaps help. I'd just drop a note in saying we will do that - and send him info later.
